GRP LAUNDERS

We also offer custom designed 'Z' and 'U' type GRP launders to suit any diameter of tank. These can be designed as 360° units or parts thereof to suit client requirements. The launder channels are supplied complete with stainless steel support brackets and weir plates.

Our launder channel sections feature 'joggle' type sealing joints for greater flexibility during installation to suit the tank install tolerances. Scum boards and support bracketry can also be supplied as required.
